TRUMAN'S AIDES DIVIDE ON LABOR BILL ADVICE

VETERAN FUNDS TRIMMED BY HOUSE GROUP

Approve Appropriations To Run 33 Independent Government Agencies.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 13—The house appropriations committee trimmed $130,884,220 from veterans administration funds today in approving an $8,167,869,027 bill to finance 33 independent government agencies next year.

The total cut amounted to $330,340,732, or 3.9 per cent below the amount President Truman asked. This brought to approximately $3,560,000,000 the claimed savings of house Republicans in their drive to chop $6,000,000,000 from Mr. Truman's 1948 budget of $37,500,000,000.

The veterans administration, however, was pared only 1.8 per cent in getting $6,944,457,080 for its work during the 12 months beginning July 1.

President—No Cut

Among major recipients covered by the bill are the office of the President, not cut at all; the atomic energy commission, reduced 30 per cent; the civil service commission, cut less than one per cent; the federal communication commission, trimmed 17 per cent; the federal power commission, cut 12 per cent; the federal trade commission, reduced almost one third; the federal works agency, cut 12 per cent, and the interstate commerce commission, trimmed 19 per cent.

The maritime commission drew a stern rebuke from the committee for its accounting and general administrative practices.

These are the major offices financed by the bill, and the effect the measure will have on them if the house and senate uphold the committee's recommendations:

Atomic energy commission: cut from $250,000,000 to $175,000,000 but given the full $250,000,000 contract authorization it requested. The committee said additional funds could be provided early next year if shown necessary. Of the total approved, $25,000,000 was earmarked for research in cancer control.

Veterans administration: given $6,944,457,080 of the $7,075,341,300 it had requested. The amount granted was $1,380,052,335 less than the VA has this year.

"Won't Impair Peacetime"

The committee said its cut would not impair veterans' benefits or require the reduction of "even one penny in financial assistance" to eligible veterans and their dependents.

The committee cut $38,959,220 from administrative funds to force a reduction of 10,000 in the number of VA employes, leaving 205,000 for next year.

It lopped $50,000,000 off the Army and Navy pension fund, saying the budget request for this item was over-estimated. It granted the full $3,719,860,000 for GI bill benefits, and approved funds for construction of 15 new veterans' hospitals.

Civil service commission: Cut $759,000 from the $260,063,000 it requested, with the explanation that the number of federal employes is expected to drop from 2,160,000 on June 30 of this year to 1,500,000 a year later.

Federal communications commission: Given $1,260,000 less than the $7,300,000 it sought and denied $375,000 for a special telegraph investigation.

Grade-Crossing Cut

Federal works agency: Given $332,375,727 of the $378,260,059 it asked. The committee cut $5,000,000 from the grade-crossing program and $31,288,854 from the federal-aid postwar highway program.

National advisory committee for aeronautics: Given all but $390,000 of the $43,839,000 it asked, including funds for developing guided missiles and planes of unprecedented speed to keep the U. S. on top in aviation.

Philippine war damage commission: Budget cut from $90,000,000 to $70,000,000 for paying war damage claims in the Philippines.

Maritime commission: Allowed $207,100,000, which the committee said represented a budget cut of $73,200,000, including slashes for reserve fleet maintenance, new ship construction and reconversion of vessels.

Information Division Out

The commission's public information division was eliminated.

War assets administration: Cut $49,800,730 from its request for $306,750,000, with the number of regional and zone offices ordered reduced to cut down on high-paid personnel.

Office of the President: These budget requests granted in full—$75,000 for the President's salary, $952,000 for White House salaries and expenses; $500,000 for the President's emergency fund, and $202,250 for operation and upkeep of the executive mansion and grounds.

Although the actual reduction below budget estimates in the bill was $330,546,732 the Republican-dominated committee claimed total savings of $1,411,690,732.

Ohio Senators Redraft Labor Bills To Calm Herbert, House

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 13—Senators set out today to redraft the Van Aken union-regulation bill in an attempt to meet Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's objection and placate ruffled representatives who passed it Tuesday.

Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin) called his commerce and labor committee together only two days before the current legislative session was scheduled to end and observed:

"We will carefully consider the bill as submitted and redraft such portions as might be necessary in the judgment of the committee to meet the public need.

House Issues Threat

Reports that the caucus had ordered the committee to block the Van Aken bill and the Veach resolution to outlaw the closed shop had caused the house to threaten defeat of all pending senate measures.

Representatives relented after Speaker C. William O'Neill (R-Washington) urged consideration of bills "on their merits" and prospects had brightened for the labor bills to reach the senate floor.

Herbert expressed the hope that all general labor legislation would be delayed until after a federal program had been decided, but apparently yielded to demands for action on the Van Aken bill.

During the turmoil, the senate passed the Kowalk measure to ease restrictions on the working hours of women and minors, and rejected house modifications in the Ferguson proposal to ban strikes by public employes.

Undergoes Change

The measure, by Rep. John H. Kowalk (R-Sandusky) underwent considerable change before it passed the senate by a vote of 21 to 14 and was returned to the house for concurrence in amendments.

The changes included exclusion of women from jobs as taxi drivers, freight elevator operators, and gas and electric meter readers.

The bill would permit women to work nine hours two days a week on manufacturing plants to a maximum of 45 hours weekly.

Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit) offered an amendment to prevent women from working more than eight hours in any one day, but it was defeated.

Senators said house changes in the bill by Sen. David McK Ferguson (R-Guernsey) to require discharge of striking public workers, including school teachers, were too liberal.

They would reduce from five years to one the probation period for strikers who were rehired, and cut from three years to six months the time during which reemployed strikers could not receive pay increases.

Herbert Approves Measure

The measure bore the approval of Herbert as it passed the house. Should representatives insist on their amendments, the bill probably would wind up in conference committee for adjustment of differences.

The resolution by Rep. Charles H. Veach (R-Putnam), if passed by the senate, would be placed on the November ballot as a constitutional amendment. As such, it would not require action by the governor after passage.

Although neither Herbert nor Walcutt would detail specific objections to the bill by Rep. William R. Van Aken (R-Cuyahoga), other sources said it focused on limitation of picket lines to two persons and union initiation fees of $25.

Other provisions of the original bill would:

Ban strikes by unions except on majority vote of members in secret ballot.

Prohibit pickets from preventing entrance or exit of persons from an employer's property.

Require unions to file annual reports on finances with the state and their members.

Authorize suits against unions for damages resulting from unlawful activities.

OHIO ASSEMBLY SPEEDS WORK

Act on Strip Mining, Industrial Relations, Fairground With Two Days To Go.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 13—The legislature, with only two working days remaining, acted today on bills to regulate coal strip mining, revamp the industrial relations department and pick a new state fairgrounds.

The house put seven measures on its morning calendar besides the proposal by Sen. Harry E. Davis (R-Cuyahoga) to name seven new division chiefs in the industrial relations department at $4,800 a year.

Additional bills will be taken up by representatives in the afternoon to speed work scheduled to end Saturday, leaders said.

Senate Gets Strip Mines

The senate topped a 14-bill program with the controversial strip mine regulation measure, already passed by the house and readied for the upper chamber vote at the behest of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. Senate conservation committeemen made only minor changes in the house-approved version of the controversial proposal. They reduced from $100 an acre to $50 the maximum amount operators must spend for reforesting stripped-over land and cut from $200 an acre to $100 the bond required to guarantee compliance. The minimum bond would be $1,000.

The other major senate measure would authorize creation of a commission to select and purchase a new state fairgrounds site to replace the present inadequate location in Columbus.

The house conservation committee virtually doomed a bill to create a new state department of natural resources by sending it to a sub-committee. The measure proposed unification of the state's conservation activities in the new department of seven divisions and an eight-member advisory commission.

Judges' Pension Defeated

A senate-approved measure to create a pension system for judges met defeat in the house by a vote of 52 for to 69 against, with 70 affirmative tallies needed for passage. Maximum pensions of $300 were proposed.

The senate passed and sent to the house a plea for state contributions to police and firemen's pensions systems to place them on a sound financial basis and make them uniform.

State contributions would be equivalent to one-tenth mill on the real and personal property tax duplicate of cities having such systems. Members' contributions would be increased from 2 to 4 per cent.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, who endorsed the measure, estimated it would cost the state a maximum of $1,700,000 a year.

Quail Bill Passes

Passed by the house 82 to 20 and sent to the senate was a measure by Rep. Lowell Fess (R-Greene) to take quail off the "songbird" list and designate them as game birds. Hunting season for quail would be determined by the legislature, instead of by the conservation division.

The senate passed house joint

WEEK-OLD MASSILLON CASE STILL MYSTERY

Police Chief Stanley W. Switter disclosed that official bafflement last night in a press conference after a six-hour session of questions-and-answers with principals in the affair.

"There still is a question on both sides," the official declared, "whether they were accidents or whether someone from outside the hospital entered unseen and left the same way."

"VETO," "SIGN" URGED ALIKE

Measure Held Both "Unworkable" in Coal Strike, Some Protection.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 13—Government labor experts who have been analyzing the Taft-Hartley bill will advise President Truman that the measure is "unworkable" and will not stop a coal strike.

This was learned today from officials who have seen the analysis.

There have been equally reliable reports, however, that some other presidential advisers are urging Mr. Truman to sign the measure.

This group is said to contend (A) that the bill does give the government some means of dealing with the threat of a new coal strike next month and (B) that congress is virtually certain to enact it into law in any event.

The labor experts are reported to have concluded, among other things that the measure awaiting Mr. Truman's decision follows more nearly the original version introduced by Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) than what they called the less restrictive measure sponsored by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

Cite 10 Reasons

Here are some of the specific reasons they cite as arguments for a veto:

1. The provision exempting work stoppages resulting from "abnormally dangerous conditions" would make it possible, in their opinion, for John L. Lewis to bring about a nationwide or partial soft coal strike in mines which have become "unsafe" during the 10-day vacation the miners will take from June 27 to July 7.

2. "Yellow Dog" contracts could be revived under a section guaranteeing employes the right to self-organization or to refrain from organization (yellow dog contracts are those employers make with individual workers pledging them not to join a union.)

3. Industry-wide bargaining would be dealt a blow by the requirement that workers involved in a contract dispute vote secretly on accepting their individual employer's last settlement offer, as stated on the ballot.

Wholesale Cancellation

4. A provision limiting payroll deductions for union dues after July 1, 1948, to workers who have submitted individual authorizations to the employer, could force wholesale cancellation of contracts—such as the vital two-year agreements of the CIO-Steelworkers.

5. Maintenance of union membership could be destroyed by the provision holding that a union can force an employer to drop an unwanted member only for non-payment of dues. The labor attorneys contend that if enough dissident union members were involved in a given plant the union, powerless to expel them, might find itself unable to enforce its own contract.

6. The bill permits the national

FARMERS FEAR WEATHER VISE

Already Caught by Wet Spring, Growers Eye Early Fall Possibility.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 13—The dread of farmers in the nation's corn belt now is that their crop might be caught in the vise of the wet, long-delayed spring and an early fall.

Plagued by continued cold weather and excessive rainfall which brought damaging floods to much of the region, corn growers have come up against the deadline for planting with millions of acres still unseeded or washed out. An early frost next autumn would prevent millions of bushels of corn from maturing fully.

From one end of the mid-western corn belt to the other the reports are the same—corn has gone into the ground much later than usual, and only the most favorable weather from now on will guarantee a good crop.

Many Acres Washed Out

In addition, thousands of acres of corn already planted, as well as oats and wheat, have been washed out by spring floods.

Grain experts consider corn the

AUTO SCENE BRIGHT AS 16,000 RETURN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 13—The auto industry's labor scene took on a brighter aspect today with settlement of strikes that had idled 16,000 workers and announcement of a new wage agreement.

Three developments in quick succession yesterday brought auto manufacturers close to general labor peace.

The Hudson Motor Car Co. set up production lines again after a two-day halt, announcing it had reached a "basis of settlement" with the CIO United Auto Workers on demands of 900 clerical employes whose picket lines had kept 15,000 production workers out of the plant.

Hudson's statement came on the heels of a Packard Motor Car Co. announcement that it had granted its 8,002 UAW-CIO workers a flat 15-cent hourly increase in return for the union's agreement to dismiss back pay claims of $45,000,000.

Earlier the UAW-CIO workers in the Continental Motors Corp. Detroit plant had ended their one-day sitdown strike.

Only one dispute—a continued strike of 3,000 Ford Motor Co. foremen—still clouded the labor picture.

The UAW'S Local 600, representing the Hudson "white collar" workers, agreed to resume negotiations on a new contract with management officials after the start of production today. Hudson stated in its hotel announcement

Truman Views Niagara on Way Back To Tax, Labor Problems

By The Associated Press

ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN, June 13—Returning home from Canada, President Truman gazed today at historic Niagara Falls—and observed, in the manner of any other tourist:

"I'm glad I don't have to go over them in a barrel."

The President bade farewell to Canada with a declaration that U. S. foreign policy had but one objective—peace in the world and friendship with every nation. He was returning to Washington to tackle such tough domestic problems as the tax and labor bills.

Mr. Truman viewed Horseshoe falls and the Canadian falls then returned to his 11-car special train to cross the border.

The President put a nickel in the Skylon telescope on Table Rock where he stopped to view Horseshoe falls.

Party Boredom Truman

The spray from the falls wetted down the pall the cooler of his dark topcoat about his neck. He got a sprinkling before he returned to the car.

The President refused to give any hint as to how he proposed to cut on the income tax and other measures, but joking that "I'll see you just before the session ends," he said right he hoped to would take action [illegible] before the time runs out.

Deadline for action on the tax measure is midnight Monday and for the labor bill midnight Friday.

His parting words in Canada, which were interpreted as an effort to pour oil on troubled international waters, were spoken to reporters on the spacious grounds of the Skigacy club, 65 miles from Ottawa, and followed by a little more than 24 hours his assertion to parliament that the United States intended to help nations who want to live in peace without intimidation or coercion.

Helpful Speculation

While diplomatic capitals of the world sought to balance his interview and his speech, the President's return to Washington heightened speculation as to whether he will veto a Republican-sponsored bill reducing United States taxes by four billion dollars.

Those who predict a veto point to his repeated assertions that tax reductions at this time would add fuel to the fires of inflation and to the heavy Democratic votes in both houses against the measure.

Speculation was more divided on his possible action on the [illegible]

THE NATION TODAY

European Economic Unity May Be Biggest Story of Our Day

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 13—One of the big stories of our time may be in the making.

It's this:

Can the needy European nations get together and work out a program for helping one another and getting more American help?

Their answer to that may change world history. Secretary of State Marshall proposed they do just that, if they want further American help.

James Marlow

He made the suggestion, not entirely new with him, a week ago. It's getting increasing attention. It will get lots more in the months ahead.

We've given, or are about to give, about $13,000,000,000 in relief of one kind or another to Europe. It's been handed out in pieces.

It hasn't been enough. Europe is in bad shape, getting worse, needing more help and plenty of it, soon.

Congress Balking

Congress has been balking stiffly at pouring more billions into Europe, at least in the stop-gap way it's been done up until now.

Yet Benjamin V. Cohen, state department counsellor, says Europe will need maybe $24,000,000,000 more in the next four years, a large part of it from this country.

Will congress go for that?

Maybe, if Europe shows signs of helping itself and setting up general program, such as Marshall suggested, for getting American help.

What's the other side of the picture, if the Europeans can't agree on a program and if America doesn't pitch in with more help?

Communists Ready

The weaker the Europeans grow, and the more the people are filled with despair, the better the chances for the Communists' taking over.

The American government and congress don't want that to happen. So Marshall came up with his idea about the European program.

But there's an extremely important point in Marshall's thinking. It's this:

The European countries which want American help must think up their own program for getting it. The United States won't lead the way.

By letting the Europeans start the thing, the United States can say it is not attempting to dictate to Europeans.

Since the United States won't take the lead, who will? Maybe the British. They've already started talks with the state department.

But—will the European countries go for Marshall's plan at all?

Will they feel that, no matter how it's proposed or who takes the lead, it will mean American domination of western Europe?

U. S. Out In East

(The United States isn't in a position to dominate eastern Europe since that area is so much under Communist control or influence now.)

But further: can the Europeans get together to work out a plan for helping themselves with American help? They've never worked out a plan for mutual help before.

How long would it take them to work out a plan? No one knows. It might take months for that, and more months before this government, particularly congress, approves.

While all that times slips by, Europe may wind up in chaos or with Communist governments where the Communists aren't in control now.

Marshall said yesterday his ideas were influenced by Winston Churchill's repeated suggestion that European nations should form a United States of Europe.

Churchill was talking of a political union. Marshall's idea would mean a kind of economic union. That could lead to political union.

But there's no sign at this time that the countries of Europe are ready for, or even thinking of, a United States of Europe.

Injunction Asked

An injunction seeking to restrain the defendants from erecting a structure, which the defendants claim will result in damage to their business, is sought in a suit filed in common pleas court by Philip E. Guthery and William Luse, partners, against Bernhard Peterson and the Baldauf Construction Co. According to the petition the plaintiffs hold a three-year lease on ground on South Prospect street, a part of which is used by customers making use of a Laundromat laundry. The defendants, the petition states, have erected barricades along the boundaries of the leased land, making it impassable for customers of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs, through their attorneys, Guthery, Harmon & Conkle, ask that an injunction be granted restraining defendants from carrying out their plans.

Courthouse Getting New Water Lines

Old corroded water pipes that serve the Marion county courthouse are being replaced and new lines are also being laid to the Milner Hotel by the Marion Water company. The water connections are expected to be completed today water company officials said.

The old pipes running to the courthouse have become inadequate for needs since the installa... of new men's restroom facilities two years ago. The old pipes had been in use 40 years. The work for both jobs has required a deep ditch on Court street extending into Main street. A power ditch excavating machine is being used.

LABOR

labor relations board to seek court injunctions on the basis of unfair labor practice complaints filed by either unions or employers without the formality of a board hearing on the complaints themselves.

"Czar of Labor"

7. The NLRB's general counsel, who could decide on his own authority who should be prosecuted for unfair labor practices, would become a virtual "czar of labor relations."

8. Forman and other supervisory workers would lose their status as protected "employes" and any contracts they were able to negotiate as union members would be solely through "collusion" with employers.

9. Frequent bargaining elections provided for in the bill could disrupt production. Four elections could be held within three months and six elections in the course of one year, under the bill, the analysis holds.

10. The democracy of elections might be threatened by the requirement that a majority—51 per cent—of al voters in a given plant must decide which union is to be a bargaining agent. Thus those absent would cast the equivalent of a "no" vote.

Los Angeles' Skid Row Is Bowery of West

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES, June 13—Skid Row is the Bowery of the west.

It is the true melting pot of great sprawling Los Angeles, an old-young city growing swiftly to world stature. Here in Skid Row the human scum left by its growth collect. Here half the city's crime is born.

Hal Boyle

Skid Row isn't a street. It's an area one-and-a-half-miles square in the downtown heart of a 450-square-mile city. Take the Bowery, West Madison street of Chicago, Twelfth street in Kansas City in the old days, Howard street in San Francisco. Wrap them all up together and turn on the neon lights—and you've got Skid Row.

Pickpockets slash your pockets with a razor to get a quarter. Muggers choke and beat you to death for 50 cents. Disease-faced middle-aged women of the street lure lonely old pensioners to a rendezvous where they get robbed and a free lump on the skull instead of bought romance.

Mixture of All

A high class criminal wouldn't be caught alive or dead in the area, but it draws cheap grifters and floaters like a magnet. It is particularly the haunt of the nightmare-ridden "winos," sodden-brain drunks who butt their heads against the walls after a few 15-cent glasses of green muscatel, port or sherry wine.

By night Skid Row is a garish, feverish honky-tonk where Negroes, whites, Chinese, Japanese, Mexicans and Filipinos line up at the bars together for 15-cent shots of whisky. By day it is a drab community of pawn shops, barber colleges, and cheap flop houses.

Some Residents Honest

Honest men of low means live in it and cause no trouble. But it also holds 8,000 to 9,000 transients at all times—bums, panhandlers, small time crooks looking for a quick touch.

"At least 50 per cent of all the crime in Los Angeles originates in the Skid Row area," said assistant police Chief Joseph Reed.

But Skid Row is behaving now after the most thorough housecleaning in its history. Chief C. B. Horrall ordered a "blockade raid" of the entire area June 4 and 351 criminal suspects were picked up, including three wanted for murder. Those with police records but no felony charge against them were given their choice of spending 180 days in jail for vagrancy or leaving town. Many left.

"There have been no strong arm robberies there since, and minor crime has fallen off," said Reed one week later.

Needs Complete Rebuilding

Oldtime residents however, believe Skid Row will remain a civic sore until the area is completely rebuilt. The prostitutes and crooks have always come back after previous police raids.

"Skid Row is just a place where the wine and the weed go hand in hand," said one bar owner.

The weed is marihuana. The price for a cigaret made of this narcotic has gone up from a dime to one dollar.

The inflation has hit Skid Row, too. The bums complain it now costs 25 cents—instead of a dime—to sleep off their jags in all-night theaters. One theater posts its one etiquette sign prominently: "Please don't throw wine bottles into the toilet."

One barman said business had fallen off 55 per cent since the war.

"You could stand here all day long with a gun and never collect a nickel," another said bitterly.

But friendly cops still advise nervous sightseers caught in Skid Row after midnight:

"Better walk in the middle of the street—and put your money in your mouth. Then keep your mouth shut."

The 71,000,000 life insurance policies in the United States at the end of 1945 averaged $2,190 each.

FINDS $19,000. Pretty Bette Baker, 18, (above) of Covington, Ky., found $19,000 in a handbag in the Greater Cincinnati Airport restaurant, where she is a waitress. Nat Welner, Miami, Fla., who said he left the handbag in the restaurant, said he would return for it and "reward Miss Baker handsomely."

Couple Repeat Vows In Delaware Wedding

ASHLEY—The wedding of Miss Pricye Louise Akison, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Akison of Delaware, and Paul E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Johnson of Stratford, took place Sunday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church at Delaware. Given in marriage by her brother, Don Akison of Columbus, the bride wore a gown of white net over taffeta and a full-length veil of illusion. Mrs. Donald James was the matron of honor and Charles Johnson attended his brother as best man.

Upon their return from a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Delaware. The bride has been employed in the library at Ohio Wesleyan university. The bridegroom attended Ohio State university and served in the U. S. Army for two years. He is a carpenter in Columbus.

The bride's family formerly lived south of Ashley.

Three Injured In Truck-Auto Crash

A head-on collision at 2:45 p. m. yesterday on Route 23, six miles south of Marion, between a car driven by Leonard J. Austin, 50, of Columbus and a truck driven by Alfred Hippler, 41, of Columbus resulted in injuries to both drivers and Mrs. Winifred Austin, wife of the car driver, state patrolmen reported.

Austin started to swerve out, according to the report, to avoid another car which had slowed down directly in front and collided with the southbound truck. Mr. Austin suffered serious chest injuries, and facial and arm bruises. Mrs. Austin received a severe mouth cut. Hippler suffered a back injury. Both vehicles were badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Austin were taken by a passing motorist to Columbus.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blost disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Rent Control Settled

WHATEVER congress decides about rent control, the issue already has been settled. Rent control is going to be abandoned. If it weren't for politics, congress would abandon it outright. But because of politics, the representatives and senators would like to let go of the bear's tail quietly. Maybe some of the people can be fooled a little longer by doing it that way.

Rent control is going to be abandoned because realities carry more weight than politics. One of the realities is that rent control, continued too long, has been a bad break for renters because it has helped make a shortage of rental property. Another is that rent control has caused wholesale deterioration of rented property. Still another—and this one will be plainer a little later on—is that rent ceilings when prices are rising must be accompanied by rent floors when prices are falling, or a large and powerful minority can claim gross injustice.

Rents will be finding their own natural level in the not-too-distant future, along with other things. Property owners who took it in the neck when they had the first chance since the 1920's to put on some fat will be among the first to clamor for protection. When it turns out that no one is interested in their plight than, it will be plainer than it is now that the real motive for rent control more than two years after the end of the war was politics, not economics.

One for Senator Claghorn

A RUMPUS has been caused in Washington by Dr. Charles C. Tansill, A. B., A. M., Ph. D., telling a meeting of Confederate organizations that Lincoln "tricked" the South into starting the Civil War—beg pardon, the War Between the States. The responsibility, he asserted, rests "squarely upon only one pair of shoulders—and those shoulders belonged to Abraham Lincoln."

Dr. Tansill, a history professor at Georgetown University, is entitled to his opinion, which may or may not be worth more than that of the average northerner who has been taught to revere Lincoln without knowing too much of the political sparring which preceded the attack on Fort Sumter. But can Dr. Tansill say the war would not have been fought had Lincoln never lived? Or can he say the Union would have survived had there been no Lincoln?

"War monger" is a term which has been loosely used in the last decade. Senator Claghorn is one of the few individuals likely to be exhilarated by Dr. Tansill's latest use of it.

Gandhi Gives Up Hope

SEEING nothing but violence and bloodshed ahead for his beloved India under partition, Mohandas K. Gandhi says he has given up his hope of living to be 125. The most he cares to think about is a few more years. "I have to hang my head in shame," he explains.

Just what causes the mahatma to be so pessimistic isn't plain. It's easy to imagine the next half century in India won't be placid, but even an apostle of non-violence like Gandhi must admit that placidity isn't an absolute condition. Things haven't been placid the last 50 years either.

Violence seems to be the inevitable consequence of clashes between groups with strongly-held opinions. Gandhi himself has been a prime source of friction in this respect. For him to predict an era of greater violence following British withdrawal is to ignore his own considerable part in forcing the withdrawal.

Perhaps Mr. Gandhi, being 77 years old, has decided his chances of surviving another half century are negligible and is comforting himself.

A Mind That Will Never Retire

CHARLES F. KETTERING, who has announced his retirement as head of General Motors research activities, is a questing industrial pioneer whose ingenuity made possible so many modern conveniences. To use a 20th Century hybrid word, he has know-how.

Until "Boss" Kettering invented the self-starter the automobile was a device only for adventurers. To twist an auto crank was to gamble with fate, and many a loser got a fractured arm for his efforts. For a woman to have attempted to drive a car of her own would have been unthinkable. The self-starter changed all that, and many of Kettering's other improvements have helped make motoring a pleasure for all.

Nominally, Kettering will be retired, but an inquisitive intellect such as his always will be probing along new frontiers, seeking new problems to solve.

The Plans Take Shape

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Move To Help Europeans Help Themselves

WASHINGTON, June 13—The general shape of a great program, comprehensive in scope and bold in design, for dealing with the economic and political crisis in Europe, is already becoming clear. The details are by no means crystalized in the minds of the planners and technicians who, under the general direction of George Kennan, are charged with formulating it. Yet the program's broad objective—to revive Europe's faith in the European future by helping the Europeans to help themselves—is now firmly established.

It is hoped that this end may be achieved through the medium of two agencies, one European and the other American. If present plans come to a head—always a big if—these two agencies will do together for European reconstruction a job similar to that done for the American war effort by the war production board.

The European agency, a joint effort of all the countries participating in the program, will establish the goals which must be met if the people of Europe are to have full bellies and a fire in the grate. These goals will be announced in terms of the things the people need to maintain life—housing, clothing, shoes, food. Working with the American agency, the European agency will study the resources available in Europe itself to achieve these goals, and will decide how the competing needs of the participating countries can best be reconciled. The American agency will then underwrite the gap between what Europe needs to live and what Europe can itself produce, until the wrecked European economies are again back on their feet.

Big Assignment

Obviously the American agency—whether independent or under the aegis of the state department—will, under these conditions, have very great authority. First, it will be charged with allocating, when and where it seems most needed, the great dollar credit—probably as much as six dollars annually—which will be needed to underwrite the European effort. Second, it will grant priorities for American goods essential to European reconstruction which are in short supply here. "It is not the dollars that are needed in Europe," as one state department technician remarked, "but the bulldozers and wheat and sheet metal which the dollars can buy." As American production gains volume, the supply problem will become less acute. Yet, like the war production board, the American agency must have authority not only abroad but at home.

No one could be more conscious than the planners that this daring conception of a program for dealing with the terrible crisis in Europe is no more than an ideal. They recognize clearly that there are a number of immensely high hurdles to be leaped before anything of the kind can even be approached.

As Secretary Marshall indicated at Harvard, the initiative must come from Europe. Yet in the neurotic political almosphere of Europe today, it will take political courage of the first order to give the lead. Men like Premier de Gasperi and Premier Ramadier are far from certain that the American congress will endorse Secretary Marshall's policy. But they are entirely certain that if they respond to Secretary Marshall's invitation, the Communists will intensify the effort which they have already launched, to wreck the western European economies by such devices as the French rail strike. Accordingly, if the nettle is to be grasped at all, it must probably be grasped by the British.

Four Pair Make a Full House

The wife of a Manhattan mailman has just given birth to her fourth set of twins.

And congress talking about cutting the postal budget . . . .

There's one postman who enjoys another type of holiday, out hunting for double-header storks

Four sets of twins . . . his wife must have bought her book on marriage at a two-for-one sale.

Both the new arrivals are girls. Their father will really get plenty of exercise, carrying the mail by day and the females at night.

Four sets of twins . . . the sight of that family coming down the street should send any number of citizens staggering hurriedly to take the pledge.

Personally, I think big families like this are a fine thing. Too many people just talk about the declining birthrate.

Frankfurt Regains Old Role

STATION SQUARE in bomb battered Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

FRANKFURT, Germany—Frankfurt's selection as the economic capital of the merged American and British occupation zones promises to restore this historic city to the eminence it held for a thousand years.

Its red stone buildings where medieval emperors were crowned have been bombed to ruins. Sixty per cent of the city was destroyed or damaged. Its 435,000 citizens live tightly packed in surviving dwellings at an average of 2.7 persons per habitable room.

The United States Army of Occupation headquarters uses the city's largest and best buildings. Housing and office space are critically scarce.

Yet civic leaders welcome the impending influx of thousands of new residents who will move in with the five bi-zonal economic agencies.

Whispers of Separatist Capital

Perhaps, some Germans whisper, Frankfurt may become not only the economic but also the political capital of western Germany—and a rival of Berlin—if the western allies are unable to agree with Russia on reuniting all four occupation zones. So far, however, British and American authorities discourage such separatist talk, which is irritating to Moscow.

Frankfurt—home of the poet Goethe and the banker Rothschild, leading city in the development of banking and printing, seat of several liberal political movements in German history—actually predates Berlin in significance.

Frankfurt was a favorite residence of Holy Roman emperors from Charles the Great in the eighth century, and for six centuries from 1152 until Napoleon's era it was the empire's electoral city. Coronations took place in the stately cathedral whose beautiful spire still towers over a vista of ruins

Commercial and Financial Center

Favored by its strategic location on the Main river near its confluence with the Rhine, Frankfurt also became the commercial capital of Germany. From the twelfth century its fairs drew merchants from all Europe.

Its financiers set the pace in the transformation of medieval money-changing to modern banking. The city's still active stock exchange was founded as early as 1585. In the eighteenth century, Mayer Rothschild established the powerful financial house which later held mortgages on half the thrones of Europe.

But residents like to stress their cultural and democratic traditions. The newspaper Frankfurter Zeitung, founded in 1856, remained until Hitler's time one of the nation's leading exponents of a free press.

Frankfurt has had long experience in self government. It became a "free city" in 1372 and except for brief intermissions retained that freedom until 1866 when Bismarck extended Prussia's iron rule westward to the Rhine in the unification of Germany.

In the German confederation of the nineteenth century, it was the confederation's capital—and also the center of its opposition liberal movement.

It was in Frankfurt that liberals revolted and in the national assembly of 1848 created Germany's first constitutional, democratic government. This attempt failed within a year, but Frankfurt remained a comparative hotbed of liberalism.

Many Dead Buried Under Rubble

World War II reduced much of the city to rubble. The Roemerberg, a famous medieval square, was gutted. The homes of Goethe and the Rothschilds were razed. The cathedral was badly damaged. Bridges across the Main river were destroyed and there is only one vehicular bridge now open.

Hundreds of the city's 6,000 bombing casualties are still buried under the rubble.

To meet the housing and office needs of the bi-zonal economic capital, Frankfurt officials have been assured of military government help in obtaining building materials.

Slander and defamation can not fool all the people all the time: "Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues."—Psalm 31:20.

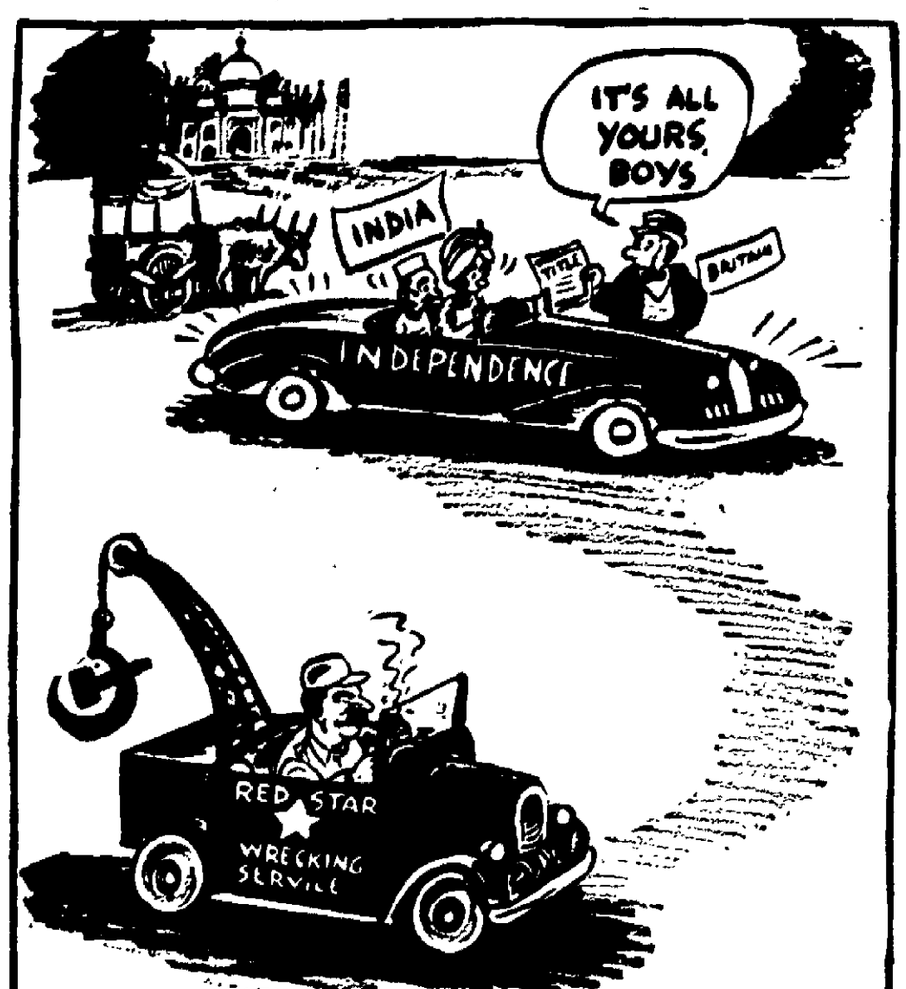
TOW CAR HANGING AROUND



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

Rev. Father Hugh Simpson, son of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Simpson, celebrated his first mass in St. Mary Catholic church.

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Canouse and Roy N. Lovett took place in the Prospect Street Methodist church.

An afternoon of golf was followed by a buffet supper at a family party held by members of the Marion Country club. Mr. and Mrs. James L. TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, June 13, 1927.

President Coolidge left the national capital for the Black Hills of South Dakota which had been chosen for the summer White House, enroute he stopped off at Hammond, Ind., to dedicate Wicker Park in what was said to be the center of the world's richest industrial area.

Approximately 12,000 witnessed two performances of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus on the Drake lot. The Marion postoffice resembled a miniature county fair as circus folks took time out from rehearsals and other routine duties to forward money orders to families and banks and also to call for letters and packages from home folks and customers.

Four Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton interurban cars passed through Marion enroute from Cleveland to Cincinnati.

Leland Brown was visiting his mother, Mrs. Alice C. Brown of Pennsylvania avenue. He had just completed his studies at Harvard university, where he received a degree in biology.

Funeral services for Eric Edmund Havill, 70, of Utica, N. Y., former shoe manufacturer here, who died in Cleveland on the previous Saturday, were held in St. Paul's Episcopal chuch, in charge of Rev. S. S. Hardy.

Famous Painting on Stamp

Postoffice Dept. Honors Medical Association

A THREE-CENT stamp, issued by the U. S. postoffice department commemorating the celebration of the birth of the American Medical Association one hundred years ago, reproduces the famous painting "The Doctor" by Sir Samuel Luke Fildes, R.A.

Joseph Lawler, third assistant postmaster general will present the centennial stamp to the House of Delegates of the A.M.A. meeting in Atlantic City.

The original painting nangs in the Guthrie clinic of the Robert Packer hospital in Sayre, Pa. It was presented to the hospital by Allan P. Kirby. Through the kindness of the hospital, this original study will be exhibited in the Auditorium at the annual session.

The large painting called "The Doctor" which hangs in the Tate Gallery in London was painted from this original study. The physician in the painting is Sir James Clark, F.R.S., K.C.B., who was a physician to the royal family in Great Britain and well known as a scientist and educator. He was also physician to Prince Leopold, later King of the Belgians Sir James Clark was one of the first physicians to make serious study of tuberculosis. He published "De Frigoris Effectibus" in 1817 and a book entitled "Notes on Climate, Diseases, Hospitals and Medical Schools in France, Italy and Switizerland" in 1820. In 1835 he published his work entitled "Treatise on Pulmonary Consumption" and he also published a book in Italian entitled "Medical Education at Edinburgh." He was born in 1788 and was made a Knight Commander of the Bath in 1866 and he died in 1870 at the age of 82.

The painter, Sir Samuel Luke Fildes, chose to portray Sir James not as physician to the Queen but at the bedside of a child of a rural family. He worked many months on this painting. Apparently he had the interior of the cottage shown in the painting reproduced in his own studio and walls, windows and even rafters were properly placed before he began to paint. The furniture was also actual furniture used in the studio as part of the model for this picture.

For Safer Driving

DRIVERS of army vehicles in the First Army Area, which includes the eastern seaboard from Maine to Delaware, are required to sign a safe driving pledge. Every individual who has occasion to sit behind a steering wheel would do well to read the pledge and resolve to live up to it. Here it is:

"I hereby acknowledge responsibility for my own safety and for the safety of others while driving a vehicle. I pledge that I will:

"Practice good sportsmanship by courteous driving and by always giving the other fellow more than an even break.

"Watch for the mistakes of other drivers and pedestrians and do everything I can to compensate for their unsafe acts.

"Not drive 'too fast for conditions,' and will always control my vehicle so it can be stopped before striking any other vehicle, pedestrian, or object.

"Always drive in the proper traffic lane and give advance warning signals before passing, turning, or stopping.

"Not pass other vehicles in an intersection, or while on or approaching a hill or curve.

"Always use my low headlight beam at night when meeting coming vehicles.

"Slow down at night, at all times when driving through towns and villages.

"Reduce speed and use extreme caution on wet or icy pavements.

"Not drive while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

"Be particularly cautious when approaching or passing children, cyclists, and aged pedestrians."

Sleep Treatment

By The Associated Press

BOSTON—The sooner his entire class falls asleep, the more pleased is the teacher.

This is not an ordinary state of affairs, but then Professor Paul Johnson, in this instance, is not an ordinary teacher. He conducts a weekly course in applied psychology for patients of a Boston dispensary clinic and his main subject is relaxation.

The Boston university educator currently has 40 students, men and women. All are being treated for a variety of symptoms of a number of ills that have no apparent organic cause, yet are very disturbing to health.

Dispensary doctors have diagnosed their conditions as just plain worry. Now the patients are helping to cure themselves through emotional re-education.

Like some other classes, Professor Johnson's start off with exercises, but they are relaxation exercises for tensed muscles.

As soon as the patient-students are completely relaxed, Johnson gives them a pleasant mental picture to "rest in."

"Think of a quiet lake with sunlight shining on it," he urges softly. "Imagine a tree bending over the shore. Smell the fragrance of that rose bower. . ."

Somewhere around this point susceptible students begin to let go and relax. Eyes grow heavy and heads begin to nod.

"After six meetings, most of the class recover from painful symptoms and live with growing efficiency," Professor Johnson said with satisfaction.

An Oriental sultan in the 16th Century had a harem in which there were more than 5,000 women, including attendants.

Ode To a Waterfowl

By TRUMAN TWILL

Fate—and the postman—have managed to the National Audubon Society's plea for servation of waterfowl into our hands at worst possible time.

The society's anxious feeling about the waterfowl are being shot down by this count fearless hunters is hard to sympathize under the circumstances, said circumsta being a lame back, a pair of sore arms a couple of aching ankles. All we are today owe to waterfowl. If there happen to be a million fewer of them next year it won't minute too soon.

The waterfowl in our life haven't been d and geese, however, but robins that built a over the downspout. This was one case wi the waterfowl were made, not born. When built the nest—when it quit raining that lo is unknown. But it has rained almost every since the nest was discovered.

And every day it has rained, buckets and of water that otherwise would have gone d the spout have poured over the sides of the trough. Days, weeks and finally a month pas with the residue of the latest preceding do pour lying continuously in the eaves and d ping, dripping, dripping. It was like the so effects in "Sadie Thompson."

The robins were determined to be a suc at playing duck if it killed them. On the day extension ladder finally was horsed into p and the nest removed, the eggs were afloat had been one of the coldest, wettest sits in r history.

Next year there will be three fewer robins yeep and yap at sunrise and cheep and chirr sundown. There will be three fewer robins build nests over downspouts to make rain w run into cellar windows and flood basemen three fewer robins to plunder cherry trees make fools of themselves tugging at imb worms.

Our feeling about our feathered enemies begun to mellow the last year or so. We'd e put away our slingshot. As far as the Natio Audubon Society was concerned, there co have been a truce. Then this episode of waterfowl happened.

Perhaps the Audubon Society never wrestled an extension ladder into position climbed it when it was out of practice and s in all the joints, like a stumblebum. Perhaps Audubon Society never tried to dry out a ba ment, or listened hour after hour to water d ping because a pair of silly birds built a over a drain.

We hope the society can stop the slaughter the waterfowl, if that's what needs to be d But how about an open season on robin maybe for five minutes?

Short of Dollars, Britain Eyes East As Foreign Trading Post

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 13—Highly-placed government sources say Britain plans to do more trading with Europe, including Communist-controlled nations, and less with the United States.

A primary reason, the sources explained, is that Britain is running out of dollars. Another reason, they added, is that Britain wants to lessen her economic dependence on America, fearing that, under the present world trade setup, a depression there would mean a depression here.

They expressed belief that Secretary of State Marshall's proposed program of aid for Europe would encourage development of Britain's European trade.

See Two Results

Any sound program of U. S. help for Europe, they explained, implied dollars for European countries, enabling them to:

1. Buy more from Britain.

2. Build up their productive plants and produce more for sale to Britain.

Anglo-European trade on any major scale might take years to develop, but Britain already has turned eastward in her search for foods and markets. Already, Anglo-Russian trade talks have begun.

A Polish trade agreement has been approved in principle and an Anglo-French pact has been concluded. Talks looking toward a formal agreement with Hungary begin next month. Exploratory talks are under way with Bulgaria and Romania.

Britain already does some trading with Czechoslovakia and the Scandinavian countries and wants to expand it.

Designed as Cushion

To some extent, the trend may represent a "normalizing" of Anglo-European trade after wartime interruption, but government sources described it as a "deliberate program" intended to cushion Britain against the shock of any global dollar famine.

The informants said the program will tend to make "less sharp" the political conflicts between Britain and Communist-controlled nations.

Inevitably, they said, nations with mutually beneficial trade relations tend to be drawn closer together in international diplomacy.

The sources have close connections with the British cabinet, treasury and board of trade.

Their statements came against this background:

War-damaged Britain is poor and her American loan is dwindling.

There has been talk in the streets of another loan.

Want No Second Loan

The government has indicated it wants no second loan; strong political forces would oppose it on the ground that it would virtually "mortgage" the country to the United States. The government, however, has never hinted that it would not welcome U. S. help in some other form than a loan.

The question arises: has the trade trend—with its political implications and promise of reduced buying in the U. S.—been over-emphasized here with the aim of wringing economic concessions from the U. S.?

The informants said the answer is "no."

5 Ways Explained

The U. S. could make economic concessions to Britain in at least five ways:

1. A loan on favorable terms, which Britain could be forced by sheer necessity to accept.

2. An outright grant of money.

3. A lowering of its tariffs on British goods sent for marketing in America.

4. A system of dollar loans or grants to all European nations, which then would be in a better position to buy from Britain.

5. Some form of lend-lease.

The question of tariffs in many countries is under consideration at international talks in Geneva.

EX SENATOR DIES. Former U. S. Senator David I. Walsh (above) 74, died late June 11 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Boston. A Democrat, he headed the Senate naval affairs committee during the war.

Britain is campaigning there for a lowering of American tariffs in particular.

Import Reduction Set

Meanwhile, with her dollar loan running dry, informants said the cabinet already has made tentative plans for a sharp reduction in imports—including food imports—from the United States.

She hopes for food and timber from Russia and food from Hungary. She has arranged for coal, textiles and eggs from Poland and seeks food and possibly Bulgarian tobacco from the Balkan states. She hopes for more food imports and more timber from Scandinavia.

She will pay for these primarily with industrial machinery, agricultural machinery, capital equipment and consumer goods.

The Financial Times, daily newspaper of the financial community, questioned the wisdom of an Anglo-Soviet agreement if it involved British credits to Russia.

The Times of London, however, saw value in developing trade with eastern nations.

Better Understanding

"British diplomacy • • • may well see along the practical lines of closer ties with the smaller countries one means of an approach to a better understanding with Soviet Russia," the newspaper said.

Government sources, however, said trade with the east was dictated for Britain by "the hard facts of economic necessity."

They estimated that the world's demands for American goods during 1947 would reach $16,000,000,000, but that buying nations would have only $8,000,000,000 worth of goods available for export to the U. S. to pay the cost.

The American policy of drawing on the gold and dollar resources of soft currency countries was expected to account for about $5,000,000,000 of the difference.

Unless the $3,000,000,000 gap remaining could be closed by an American policy of loans and grants-in-aid, the sources said, recovery in every country in the world would be held back.

YOUR HEALTH

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Lead Poisoning

When taken into the body, lead is a dangerous poison and those working with it can never afford to become careless. They must realize the dangers involved and co-operate in avoiding them. By doing so, they can keep out of trouble.

Cleanliness of the hands and body is of great importance. So is proper dental care. Frequent change of working clothes will prevent the absorption of lead from garments which have become filled with lead dust. These things mean so much that employes who work in plants where lead is used should be given an extra ten minutes before meal time for the purpose of getting cleaned up.

Otherwise, the measures protecting against lead poisoning relate to the general health. Enough food of proper nourishing quality should be eaten. Sufficient sleep and rest should be obtained. Excess indulgence in alcoholic beverages is to be avoided.

Even where lead poisoning occurs, early recognition and proper treatment will prevent permanent damage.

Dr. William C. Wilentz of New Jersey, has treated 37 patients with lead poisoning without any resulting disability.

The treatment which he used is as follows: The patient is put into a hospital at complete rest, in bed, or is allowed to walk about, depending on the severity of pain. Each morning on arising he is given magnesium sulfate. A mixture of belladonna and phenobarbital is given every four hours to relieve pain. A calcium gluconate solution is given by injection into a vein every four hours and a similar preparation is taken by mouth. If there is pain in the abdomen, a hot water bottle or an electric pad is employed. The diet is rich in calcium and lime and low in phosphorus.

Every other day the red blood cells are carefully studied which aids in determining the progress of the conditinn. (It is well known that lead poisoning produces certain changes in the blood cells). Estimation is made of lead in the urine and urinalyses are made occasionally thereafter.

During the convalescent or recovery period, the patient is given the normal well-balanced diet with mild laxatives when necessary. Some lime preparation is given by mouth and iron and vitamin B-complex tablets are used to overcome anemia or lessening of the amount of coloring in the blood. As soon as possible the patient is allowed to return to work.

In the more chronic cases of lead poisoning it is necessary to remove the patient permanently from any exposure to lead. He is given plenty of fresh air, a well-balanced diet, and multiple vitamin tablets for tiredness and weakness. By doing this he will keep out of a lot of trouble.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Pridgen, father of the groom, at the afternoon service, assisted by Rev. Swan, pastor of the church.

For her wedding, Miss Craig chose a gown of white satin with lace trimming at the neckline. The full skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil was of bridal illusion. She carried a corsage of white roses and gardenias. Mrs. Harry Hetch, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Richard Martin, a friend and fellow student of the groom, served as best man.

Gambler Fined $300 And Jailed 60 Days in Newark's Court

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., June 13—Joseph Huffman, whose gambling establishment in Etna township was raided Monday night by sheriff's deputies, today was fined $300 and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Municipal Judge Harvey J. Alexander imposed the penalty after Huffman pleaded guilty to exhibiting a roulette wheel.

The court, rejecting defense attorney's request for return of several thousand dollars worth of gambling equipment, ordered it destroyed.

Meanwhile, the Licking county grand jury convened in special session to investigate gambling.

"It has come to the attention of this court," Common Pleas Judge Charles B. Holtsberry told the jury, "that organized gambling on a comparatively large scale has been in operation in Licking county for the last five weeks.

"Licking county is not going to be a prize ring for the gun activities of organized gamblers. Organized gambling leads to bloodshed."

BABIES

one-by-one, into Chief Switter's office, were two nurses, Miss Silleck and Murna Croft; their immediate boss, Mrs. Lois Arnold, superintendent of nurses at City hospital, and their top boss, Hospital Supt. E. J. Lincke.

Rounding out the scene were Chief Switter, Stark County Detective Harry (Butch) Grossglaus, Coroner E. C. Reno, Police Capt. Clifford Davenport and Patrolman John Mohr.

From this gathering, said the chief, came some new information and opinions:

Investigators now, he explained, definitely have eliminated the theory that someone had searched a third crib in the City hospital pediatrics nursery where babies Brand and Morton received their fatal injuries.

The crib, with its disarranged covers, was a storage spot for extra pads. One of the nurses remembered "distinctly" hurriedly getting a pad that night and failing to straighten the coverlet.

But, this and any other new information which may have been cleaned by yesterday's queries failed to shake Coroner Reno from his official verdict of "homicide."

most important domestic cereal, because it is the basis for much of the nation's food supplies. It is fed on farms to animals and poultry, forming the foundation for meat and dairy product production.

Analysis at the Chicago board of trade said one result of late corn planting usually was a "soft" crop — meaning that the corn has a high moisture content. This type of corn, they said, was not as good for feeding as low moisture grain.

Hybrid seed corn is grown almost exclusively in the middle west, and it matures in about 100 days, crop experts said. The custer which the ground is left idle tomary deadline for corn planting in the main belt is June 15, afor used for soybeans.

On Top of Deadline

The corn belt is right on top of this deadline now, and the weather forecast for most of the north central section was rain and cool weather, with temperatures expected to start climbing tomorrow.

In Ohio, John Falconer, rural economist of Ohio State university, estimated that about 50 per cent of the state's intended acreage has been planted. Most of the corn is reported in "poor shape." Tractors in some parts of the state are working 24 hours a day. Thirty per cent of the oats crop, normally a million acres, was in the ground. Thirty per cent of the corn crop also has been planted. There was only small damage from floods.

Average dates of the first killing frost in some of the corn belt states is: Iowa, Oct. 5; Illinois, Oct. 12; Nebraska, Oct. 3; Indiana, Oct. 13, and Ohio, Oct. 14.

Ohio Crops Still Expected To Be Adequate in '47

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 13—With Ohio's corn crop only about one-third planted on June 11, Ohio State university agronomists and staff members at the Ohio experiment station still predict farmers will produce enough crops in 1947 to meet all needs.

A crop-conditions report held today that corn could be planted until June 25, and for silage up until July 1 with every chance of producing a good crop, and brought forth an opinion corn should have top priority in planting over any other crop, even though rains have prevented normal plantings or sugar beets and tomatoes.

"With a decent break in weather conditions up to July 1," the report said, "the Ohio acreages of corn, beets and tomatoes are likely to be large enough to produce up to average."

Importance of fertilizer to assist growth of late-planted crops was stressed. Farmers were urged to use 200 to 300 pounds of sulphate of ammonia per acre on corn planted on sod carrying a heavy growth of timothy.

Vegetables, although late, now are appearing on the market in larger quantities and the state should have average potato and green vegetable crops, the report said, adding that only half of Ohio's normal acreage of peas for commercial canning that was planted this year now is about ready for harvest.

The highest navigable lake in the world is Lake Titicaca, on the border between Peru and Bolivia, it is two and a half miles above sea level, 139 miles long and its depth varies from 100 to 1000 feet.

DISCUSSION IS HELD ON BUILDING CODE

Subject Taken Up by Kiwanis Club Panel.

A panel discussion on the proposed building code for Marion comprised the program at the Kiwanis club meeting Thursday noon at Hotel Harding. Henry Krigbaum was in charge.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler served as moderator, and on the panel were Glen Pearson and Mr. Krigbaum, who took the place of Robert Pennisten. Mr. Pearson explained that the codes of various cities have been studied to an extensive degree and it is believed by the committee that they have a code worked out that would be advantageous to Marion.

Mr. Krigbaum explained that the code has been proposed to council and is now under consideration. He also outlined some of the advantages of a building code in Marion.

Following the panel discussion, a question and answer period was conducted in which questions were asked by the members and answered by the three men on the panel.

An announcement was made that the annual ladies night party will be held at the Grange hall at Kirkpatrick next Thursday night at 6:30.

ALLOW GARBAGE HAULING ONLY BY CITY DEPARTMENT

Errors Cited in Recent Star News Story.

Safety Service Director Edward O. Uncapher has called attention to an error in a news item printed in The Star June 10 concerning the warning issued by the sheriff's office against dumping garbage and rubbish along highways outside the city limits.

The item stated: "Persons hauling garbage within the city limits may get a license from the city for a small fee." Mr. Uncapher said this is incorrect and it has resulted in a number of requests being made to the city for garbage hauling licenses.

He cited City Ordinance No. 4553, Section II which reads in part as follows: "That hereafter no person, firm or corporation other than the City of Marion, O., and its agents and employes shall collect, transport or dispose of any garbage within the City of Marion, O., nor shall any such person, firm or corporation other than the city of Marion, O., and/or its agents and employes remove or haul any garbage over or through any of the streets or alleys of said city."

He quoted Section XV of this ordinance as follows: "Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, before the municipal judge, be fined in any sum not exceeding $500."

CINCINNATI AVERTS GAS STRIKE THREAT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 13—Threat of a strike that might have disrupted gas and electric service in the greater Cincinnati area was removed today.

The possibility of a walkout of 400 employes of the gas department of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. was eliminated last night as James McNamara, U. S. labor conciliator, announced that the company and District 50 United Mine Workers of America-AFL had reached agreement on a new contract granting the workers wage increases ranging from seven to 15 cents on the hour.

The conciliator said employes now receiving 99 cents and under per hour will get a seven-cent hike; those in the present $1-1.14 bracket, nine cents; $1.15-$1.39, 12 cents, and $1.40 and up, 15 cents. The increases willbe retroactive to June 1, expiration date of the last contract.

In addition, McNamara reported, a general increase of five cents an hour will be granted Oct. 6.

The union last Sunday voted authorization to its negotiations committee to call a strike anytime it believed "necessary" to enforce demands for a 15-cent hourly increase. The action was taken with the expiration the day before of the union's 30-day strike notice to the national labor relations board.

One-half the fine was suspended and also a workhouse sentence of 60 days with the provision that the watch be returned. DeRemer said the watch had been sold for $4. He could not give the name of the man who bought the watch, but thought he could take police to where he lived.

Council Tells Liquor Dealers Closing Rules Must Be Obeyed

Warn That Stricter Legislation Will Come If Provisions of Present Ordinance Are Violated.

...esentatives of the Marion ... Dealers association were ... last night that if dealers ... observe the 1 a. m. Sunday ... hour now called for by city ...ance, new and stricter legis... will be adopted. A proposed ...ordinance was presented to ... at an adjourned meeting ...day night, and had come up ...doption but was withdrawn ...representatives of the associ... stated they believed it pos... to secure the cooperation of ...lers in the city under exist... regulations.

...ussion has been under way ... time on reports that sev... dealers were "loading tables" ...the 1 a. m. closing hour, making ...ssible for liquor to be con... on the premises for a period after the legal closing hour. This, it was explained, is in contradiction to the spirit and intention of the present ordinance.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler, in speaking to council and liquor dealers' representatives, stated he had no objection to the 1 a. m. closing hour, and that he did not believe the majority of dealers were involved in the infraction of the ordinance. He pointed out, however, that providing liquor for consumption after the closing hour would not be tolerated, and that it was expected of dealers to keep strict observance of the present ordinance.

The ordinance shelved Thursday night provides that: no person, club, night club, hotel or other establishment shall directly or indirectly sell or furnish, give, barter or permit consumption of liquor, wine, beer or other intoxicating beverages containing more than ½ per cent of alcohol by weight within the corporate limits of the city for the 24-hour period between 12 midnight Saturday night and 12 midnight Sunday night.

Cooperation Expected

Representatives of the dealers raised the question of whether or not it would be wise to pass stricter legislation, pointing out that dealers outside the city limits would not be affected by the closing regulations, and that increased patronage of their establishments might increase danger on the highways. Mayor Dowler asked representatives of the association if they could find a solution to the present problem outside of passage of stricter legislation, to which they replied they believed it possible to secure cooperation of all dealers. Representatives of the association present were Ralph Nicolosi and Jack Lautensiager.

Other Council Business

Revised estimates on cost of constructing sewers on Patterson and Patten streets were presented to council by Tom S. Cathers, city engineer, after resolutions authorizing him to prepare new estimates had been adopted.

Property owners from the two streets were present and voiced approval of the new estimates. Bids on the two projects had previously been rejected because rising labor costs had forced contractors to bid in excess of the city engineer's estimate. The revised estimate for installation of a sanitary sewer in Patten street from Greenwood street to the first alley east of Patterson street was given as $7,102.15 or $6.58 a front foot. The original estimate was $4,782.80.

Cost of construction of storm and sanitary sewers in Patterson street from Mark to Patten, according to the revised estimate, would be $11,980.65 or $5.54 a front foot, compared to an original estimate of $7,961.50.

After property owners had expressed approval of the new estimates council adopted resolutions authorizing the city clerk to give legal notice of acceptance of the revised estimates.

Codification Authorized

Council adopted an ordinance authorizing the city solicitor to employ an authorized person or persons to make a preliminary examination, index and report of all city ordinances and resolutions preparatory to codification, and that $500 be set aside to cover expenses of the project. The codification had been suggested by the legislative committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

Provisions were made for exchange of fire equipment between the Marion Engineer depot and city fire department as result of a resolution adopted by council authorizing the exchange of equipment in case of emergency and setting fees for use of the equipment. Fees have been set at $50 for each piece of equipment used, 10 cents a mile for every mile traveled outside the corporation limits and $50 for each hour of service while fighting the fire.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the city engineer to prepare plans and estimates for construction of a concrete gutter and curbing on both sides of Henry street from Darius street to Congress. Another resolution adopted granted employes of the service department who have worked for the department one year a one-week vacation, and those who have been employed three years a two-week vacation, both vacations with basic pay.

Councilmen voted in favor of an ordinance to issue notes in anticipation of levying of assessment for improvements on Henry street and Uncapher avenues, one bond to be issued in the amount of $331.70 and four at $1,000 each. The funds will be for installation of sidewalks now being constructed on the two streets.

E. O. Uncapher, safety-service director, reported to council that recommendations for improvement of city sewage treatment submitted by Floyd Browne, sanitary engineer, had been approved by the state director of health. Funds for sewage treatment improvement were provided in a $270,000 bond issue approved by voters in November 1945.

Re-Zoning Asked

Re-zoning requests again came to the attention of council. Requests for changing from residential to commercial zones for lots at the corner of Davids and Wood streets, Hill and South Main were referred to the city planning commission. An ordinance was adopted authorizing addition of the classification of electrical service to the commercial zone. A petition by owners of property nearby objecting to proposed re-zoning of a lot at the corner of Bellefontaine and Gill avenues was received. A public hearing on the proposal was set for July 28 by William Slack, president of council. No action was taken on a request for re-zoning lots on Fairview avenue pending clarification of the owner's request.

The city clerk was authorized to give public notice of a request for vacation of 200 feet of an alley east of Kensington place on the city corporation line and 12 feet of an alley adjoining lot 2556.

Action on Petition

Council returned a petition from property owners on Thompson street asking for paving of the street, since only 16 per cent of the owners had signed. To be valid a petition must be signed by 60 per cent of the owners.

Petition for installation of a water main on the east end of Bryant street was referred to the utilities commission as were petitions for installation of street lights at the corner of Woodrow avenue and Clinton street and at the east end of Fillmore street.

A complaint was received from property owners on West Center street that fans installed at the American Malleable Castings Co. are blowing dirt and grit over the area and causing noise to the extent that residents were forced to keep doors and windows closed. Mr. Slack informed the property owners the complaint would be taken under advisement.

Following receipt of a complaint on conditions of sidewalks in the city, it was moved that a list of sidewalks in bad repair be presented by the safety-service director for action at the next council meeting.

Complaints were also heard that gravel and lime trucks passing through the city are spilling stone on the street and causing unnecessary dust. It was reported that police action was being taken.

The report on the hardness of city water for the period ended June 7 showed a high of 6.6 grains and a low of 4.9.

G. Cunningham was named teacher and Mrs. U. E. Hootman, assistant. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Milligan of 632 Park street.

Klingel conducted devotions by reading the 121st Psalm, and Mrs. Anna Zimmerman gave a humorous reading entitled, "My Ma's Old Hat." Plans were made to sew rags in the near future. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshment by her daughter, Mrs. Chester Morris and Mrs. Yuba Baker. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Selena Grueser on Oak street.

BAPTIST GROUP ATTENDS YOUTH RALLY SERVICE

Rev. Sutherland Speaks on "Creative Guidance."

Young people from Emmanuel Baptist church were present at the "Christ for Youth" rally service in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church last night. Rev. E. E. Nietz, superintendent of the Southern district in which Calvary church is included, was a special guest. Edwin Endicott offered prayer and Rev. Dewey Long of Wagram sang a solo. A young people's choir took part in the service.

Rev. James Sutherland of Akron took as Scripture parts of the fifth chapter of Acts. His topic was "Creative Guidance," and he said in part, "Every Christian should live a God-guided life. You will hear some say, 'How can I know when God guides me?' God guides us different ways.

God guides us by circumstances which are raised up under the direction of His spirit that actually point the way to go, and we do not dare to go any other; by enlightened intelligence God wants consecrated "grey matter" the same as he wants consecrated hands and feet; by the written and spoken word of other people; and by the pastor's help; by the fellowship of intimate groups in prayer, in the prayer meeting, and worship service; through the inner voice, not necessarily conscience, the spirit of God directly speaking to your heart and mine, "His witness bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God"; through His Word in the Scriptures."

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Newly elected officers of the Eagles Auxiliary of Delaware were installed Monday night headed by Mrs. Marie Hinton as president, succeeding Mrs. Madge Kendall.

CUBS DROP RICHMOND, 6-3, BEHIND LAWRENCE'S PITCHING

Pivorunas To Hurl Encore Tilt In Roses' Home Garden Tonight

Special to The Star

RICHMOND, Ind., June 13—A neat seven-hit pitching performance turned in by "Jitts" Lawrence here last night gave the Marion Cubs a 6-3 victory over the Richmond Roses and moved them up to fourth place in the Ohio State league pennant race.

The young righthander had the Roses eating out of his hand for six innings, handcuffing the Hoosiers with only three singles. However, he loosened up in the last three rounds and gave up four hits, one a triple by Bob Verrier, good for three runs.

Go Again Tonight

The two clubs clash here again tonight in a single game at 8. Gaspar Pivorunas will be on the mound for Marion and Bill Norwood will work for Richmond.

Bob Upton, Roses' pitcher, gave up only seven safeties in going the route, but he was tagged for four unearned runs in the fifth inning which meant victory for the Cubs.

Marion tallied twice in the second on a single by Bob Shuford, a walk to Mel Nelson and singles by Lawrence and Roy Hollingshead.

Fifth Is Fatal

The fatal fifth saw Johnny Smith open with an infield hit back of second. On Gene Bobzean's perfect double play ball, Gerber threw low to second and both runners were safe. Dwight Maxhimer singled to left, scoring Smith.

Burbrink's single to right scored Bobzean and Maxhimer crossed the plate as the Richmond rightfielder let the ball go through him. Burbrink then scored on Shuford's fly ball to left which should have been the third out.

Richmond's seventh inning marker was the result of Verrier's three-bagger down the right field line and a fly ball to center by Manager Rex Carr. Two tallies in the ninth came on a walk, two singles and two more passes before Lawrence halted the rally.

Zanesville Splits With Dayton As Race Tightens

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers proved again last night why they're heading up the Ohio State league pennant race by five full games.

The Dodgers moved from Newark into Dayton to take on the newly-arrived runnerups in a doubleheader, dropped the first one, 9 to 8, but came back with a rush to get an even break by 5 to 3 in the seven-inning nightcap.

They won the second tilt despite the fact two Tribe hurlers limited them to five hits while Clarence Anderson pitched himself out of tough spots after yielding seven safeties to Dayton. The Dodgers almost won the opener, too, but fell one run short in the final inning after Dayton had mauled three Dodger hurlers for six runs and victory in the seventh.

Developments elsewhere pulled the battle for runnerup spots into a tight knot. As things stood today there was but a margin of 2½ games between second-place Dayton and sixth place Springfield.

Springfield helped its own cause with a 9 to 1 triumph over Newark. While Marion gained on the Browns with a 6 to 3 win over Richmond, the fifth place club.

Muncie defeated Lima, 5 to 4, to give the Terriers' sole possession of last place.

Tonight the same clubs meet again.

Hero One Year, Zero Next Is Fate Of Major Loop Ball Club Managers

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Sports fans are notoriously fickle and their emotions fluctuate the fastest when baseball managers are concerned.

Eddie Dyer and Mel Ott, the managers who handled, respectively, the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals and the cellar-dwelling New York Giants last season, testify to the rapid change of heart a baseball fan can exhibit.

Dyer was the toast of St. Louis when he master-minded the Cards to the big prize last October, but when his Redbirds go off to a miserable start this year the skipper must have felt like using alley entrances to ball parks.

Master Melvin is in just the other position. The Giants hadn't gone anywhere since the great outfielder took over the reins in 1942 and there were repeated howls for his scalp from the direction of the stands. This year his Giants picked up after a slow start and spent the second month of the season flirting with the league lead. Ott suddenly has become a second McGraw.

If you win you're a hero, if you lose you're a bum. It is this reaction from the fans and press that accounts for the smug smile on the faces of Bill McKechnie and Del Baker who have traded their managerial headaches for a soft spot on the coaching lines.

Deacon Bill, reportedly the highest paid coach in the game, can sit back and watch Lou Boudreau take the rap when a Cleveland pitcher goes sour or the batting attack doesn't produce runs. Baker, a top sign-stealer, openly admits that he finds his Red Sox coaching job a cinch because he doesn't have to "take the second guessing from the press box."

Dyer's fluctuation from favorite to outcast in one month recalls many cases in baseball history where a manager was bounced soon after winning a pennant.

Luke Sewell brought St. Louis its only American league pennant in history in 1944, only to be dumped by the club after the 1946 season.

Eddie Dyer, St. Louis Card manager sits dejectedly in the dressing room after the champs drop another game. They can't seem to get going.

The New York Yankees' Joe McCarthy won the last of seven flags and six world championships for the Stadium forces in 1943, but resigned his post within a month after the 1946 season got under way.

Most flagrant case was that of Rogers Hornsby who won the world championship with the St. Louis Cards in 1926 but was not asked to manage the team the next year. Hornsby had the last snicker when the Cards failed to repeat in the National league.

The Chicago Cubs, perennial contenders, have had many managerial changes during the last two decades. The Bruins took the National league flag in 1929 under McCarthy but had a new man—Hornsby—at the helm by mid-season of 1930. Hornsby left in mid-season of 1932 but the Cubs took the bunting anyway, finishing the campaign under Charlie Grimm.

Grimm got the gate in the midst of the 1938 flag chase, after winning the title in 1935, and Gabby Hartnett came on to lead the team to another crown.

Jimmy Wilson took over in 1940, and the Wrigleys made another mid-season change in 1944, Wilson going out and Grimm coming on for his second term. Jolly Charlie brought home the National league bunting the next year, the Cubs lost their sixth consecutive World Series.

Dyer can't pitch for faltering Howie Pollet or hit for slumping Stan Musial but he can extract some solace from the situation if he realizes that many former managers have been victims of the "fair weather fans."

LEGION BENEFIT TILT REPORT NOT YET IN

Money Raised To Defray Juniors' Road Expenses.

The exact amount of money raised for the American Legion junior baseball team by the benefit contest with Lima Wednesday is not yet known, Jewell Ralston, ticket sales chairman, reported today.

An estimated 2,500 attended the game where 690 tickets were sold but a complete check of business places handling the ducats has not been made. A 4,000 goal had been set.

Money raised will be used to pay road trip expenses which will vary from $35 to $50 dollars. Lincoln-Mercury Sales, co-sponsor, has provided equipment.

The Juniors will have a practice game this afternoon against Schlairet and plan a tilt with a junior opponent next week.

Tentative games with Lima, Delaware, several Columbus outfits, Circleville, Galion, Bucyrus and Chillicothe Veterans' hospital, are scheduled.

Intra-City Plans Move As Smitty Gives Field

Possibility of intra-city baseball for Marionites under 17 is growing.

Harold Smith has donated his Crystal Lake diamond for daytime use by the juniors. Staging two morning games and two afternoon seven-inning affairs, eight teams could play per day.

W. R. Martin, chairman of the American Legion baseball program, has pledged funds raised at the benefit game Wednesday. W. E. Orcutt, assistant chairman, is searching for supervisors of the proposed junior program.

Sam Breadon Issues Statement Denying Cardinals on Block.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, June 13—The St. Louis Cardinals are not for sale.

Sam Breadon, president of the world champions of baseball, issued a brief statement to that effect last night.

For two weeks Breadon had been besieged with requests to clarify his intentions, inasmuch as newspapers from coast to coast have carried stories that the club, in which he holds a 77 per cent interest, was for sale.

Latest of these reports was that a group headed by Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan and Edwin W. Pauley, west coast oil magnate, were trying to purchase the Cardinals for $3,000,000.

LIST HARPSTER ATHLETE

COLUMBUS, O., June 13—Jack Lewis, Bexley High school hurdler was the only member of the 1947 all-Ohio high school honorary track team to take top laurels in two class A sections, while Bob Williamson of Lorain Clearview and Leo Dillion of Harpster, were named twice in class B.

Cincinnati Rookie Peterson Hands Cards Fifth Shutout

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 13—The St. Louis Cardinals, shutout five times this season by left-handed hurlers, were blanked last night by southpaw Kent Peterson, Cincinnati rookie, who spaced five hits to the Cards as the Reds notched a 1-0 win.

The Reds themselves got only seven hits off Jim Hearn but they bunched four of them in the seventh. Bert Haas singled to left, made third as Augie Galan singled and scored on Eddie Miller's single through third base. After Ray Lamanno flied out the second out, Peterson himself singled, but Galan was tagged at the plate on a fine throw from second baseman Red Schoendienst to catcher Del Rice, the Portsmouth boy.

Peterson went the route for the first time in registering his second win. He has suffered five losses.

Herman Ready To Make Buc Hurlers Walk Plank

By The Associated Press

Billy Herman couldn't be blamed if he made the entire Pittsburgh Pirate pitching staff walk the plank into the Monongahela mud.

In 15 games since Memorial day, not one Bucco starter has gone the route. As a result the team is trying to knock a hole in the National league cellar floor.

A crowd of 32,132 turned out last night to see the Pirates bow 7-3 to visiting Chicago.

New York's Yankees shut out their city rivals, the Giants, 7-0 in the first of a best-of-three charity exhibition series for the Mayor O'Dwyer trophy.

Engine Trouble May Bench Marion Driver

Because of engine trouble, Paul Hooper of Marion may not be able to drive his midget racer this weekend. He had planned to race in the 100 mile Bainbridge race Sunday. Repairs may be made by then.

Engine trouble developed in a race at the Rubber Bowl in Akron Wednesday. At Evensburh, Pa. Monday he took first in the elimination races, was fifth in the pursuit run, and placed fourth in the feature.

8 TO 1 SHOT WINS TROY HARNESS RACE

Marysville Horse Takes First Start of Year.

By The Associated Press

An 8 to 1 long shot, Margaret Godfrey, owned and driven by Tom Carlock of Greenville, and Frisco Don, owned by W. C Keenan of Akron, gave the best performances last night around two Buckeye trotting ovals.

Margaret Godfrey won the featured race at Troy, stepping the 9-16 mile in 1:16 4-5. Frisco Don had times of 2:09 4-5 and 2:10 2-5 for a pair of mile dashes at Fort Miami race way, near Maumee.

Proprietor, carrying the colors of John Hackett of London, at Troy toured the mile course in 2:18 2-5 under the reins of William (Doc) McMillem.

Frisco Don's dual victory was almost jeopardized by Try Scott in a thrilling stretch bid for the second division finish.

Other Troy sparklers were Jonesie Jones, owned by the McAulff brothers of Marysville, in winning his first appearance of the year under the guiding hand of Bob Vallery of Washington, C. H. He led the 2:28 trotters over the 9-16 spring distance in 1:21 3-5.

Sammy's Nite Club will play at Mansfield Cub traveling school Sunday afternoon. All members of the team are asked to report to Bob Higgins' home at 716 Darius at 12:30 p. m. Sunday.

Fusari Bout Aired on WMRN Tonight

In going after his 40th straight win tonight, Charley Fusari, unbeaten Irvington, N. J. welterweight, faces a difficult assignment. He tangles with tough Tony Pellone (above) of New York in a ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Pellone is determined to mar Fusari's clean slate. Tony is a puncher with a blasting left hook. He's cunning, strong, fast—knows how to sustain an attack. Pellone handed Billy Graham his first defeat after Graham had gone through 56 bouts without a loss.

Fusari is the current hot attraction in the 147-lb. division. For a welter, Charley is tall and rangy. He possesses smashing power in either hand, prefers bing-bang tactics and rarely resorts to fistic science. His string includes 34 knockouts.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1400 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

3 Share National Golf Open Lead

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 13—Three players shared the leadership with four-under-par 67's in yesterday's opening 18-hole thrust of the 72-hole National Open golf championship at the St. Louis Country club.

Today's 18-hole test will trim an original field of more than 160 professionals and amateurs to 60 odd battlers for tomorrow's concluding 36-hole scramble.

Two Texas products, Harry Todd of Dallas and Henry Ransom, Houston's gift to Chicago's Northmoor club, and long-driving Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich. were the pace-setting trio.

A stroke behind the pacesetting three-some was Bobby Locke, whose South African national flag was run up on the club-house pole yesterday as he tacked together 33-35.

Was It Joe Louis?

RICHMOND, Va. — Arthur Dietz, Jr., Richmond publisher, vouches for this story—

Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight champion, visited Richmond in the early twenties to appear in an exhibition bout. After the exhibition, Dempsey went downtown where he noticed a newspaper carrier boy staring at him.

"Son," Dempsey asked, "what's the matter? Got something on your mind?"

"Yes, sir, Mr. Dempsey," the youth replied. "I was just wondering how strong you are."

"Well," the boxer returned, "I'm not as strong as some people think."

"Mr. Dempsey," the youngster said, "I was wondering if you were strong enough for me to hit you in the belly with all my might."

Dempsey said he didn't know but was willing to try. He pulled back his coat and extended his stomach. The youngster wound up and then let go with a blast to Dempsey's stomach.

Dempsey putting on his best act, reeled backward and doubled up as if in pain.

"Boy," the boxer said, "you punch harder than anyone I've ever fought."

The youth, grinning from ear to ear, got away without anybody finding out his name.

MARKET RECOVERY TRIES INEFFECTIVE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 13—Attempts at recovery were largely ineffective in today's stock market.

A flurry of demand for gold mining issues provided the only feature of otherwise quiet trading. Pivotal steels and motors held in a narrow range with some eliminating early declines. Near the fourth hour plus and minus signs were well distributed.

Principal brake on activity, brokers said, was disinclination of customers to make commitments over the weekend in view of uncertainty over fate of tax reduction legislation awaiting presidential action. Some support for individual stocks stemmed from moderate short-covering, investment buying and persisting hopes for a late upturn.

Reaching higher levels were Homestake, Dome Mines, Alaska Juneau, Sunshine Mining, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor, American Can, Johns-Manville, Pepsi-Cola and Philip Morris. Laggards were American Telephone (at a new 1947 low), Great Northern preferred, Norfolk and Western, International Nickel and Douglas Aircraft.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Clara Kinsler, of 249 Olney avenue, and nephews, Clifford Kinsler of New Bloomington and Kenneth Kinsler of Olney avenue.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Vernon avenue by Rev. J. B. Holloway of Trinity Baptist church of which Mrs. Gray was a member. Burial will be in the Marion mausoleum. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

FOR a second, I thought I had overdone the stern measures I had adopted to bring Mary back from the despairing lethargy which had overtaken her.

She looked up at me for a fraction of a second with distinct terror in her eyes. Then she threw her hands over her face, while her body shook as if she were having a malarial chill. But she did not weep.

Some intuition told me to be silent. But I never have put in more distressing moments than those in which I waited, quiet and tense, beside the couch on which she was lying.

Then suddenly—Mary is always unpredictable—she took her hands from her face and looked up at me, her eyes alight with resolution.

"Shall we call a truce?" She asked.

"By all means," I told her smiling. "Just what are your terms? I'm only adamant on one point, that I want to work with you."

"There isn't any question about that," she said. "I know if anybody in the world can salvage anything out of the mess I'm in, you're the baby that can do it. I'm going to work like nobody's business and do everything you tell me, like a good little girl."

She stopped, and looked at me speculatively.

That Other Stuff

"The truce is about that other stuff I've been pulling. I won't do anything, or talk about anything, until you get your letter back from Aunt Harriet."

"Don't get me wrong," she went on hurriedly. "I'm not asking you to relax any precautions, or unbar any windows. You wouldn't anyway," she added, with a little moue at me, "but I'm not asking any favors. I'm only asking that you don't give me any guff about morbidness or duty to my family or anything like that. Let's just work like the devil, shall we?"

"I'll be very glad to sign a truce like that, Mary," I told her. "Now, I'm going to bring a cloth, wet with cold water, and sponge your face and hands. It will spoil your makeup, but you won't be receiving this forenoon. Then we'll get to work.

"But you must remember one thing," I added. "Aunt Katharine is to be the sole arbiter of how long you can work. When she says stop, we must stop, no matter how interested you are."

Will Expect That

"Oh, of course I'll have to expect that," she said. "But Aunt Katharine is almost as good a scout as you are. I'm sure she'll stretch a point or two for me."

"I'm sure she will," I said, going to the bathroom for the cold wet cloth I had promised her.

Returning, I sponged her face and hands, dried them, and then, pulling her to her feet, ushered her back to the big arm chair, tucking her in warmly as I had before. Then I went to my desk, and brought back the first scene of my play.

"Here we are!" I said, seating myself opposite her. "Now we're going to concentrate on your first speech. It's only two lines."

"I'll bet I can't memorize it and keep remembering it," she said, and I reached over and took the script from her hands.

"Of course you can't, if you're going to adopt this defeatist attitude," I told her, "and I'm not going to waste my time on a hopeless proposition."

Plaintiff Question

"I said I'd work, didn't I?" she asked plaintively.

"But you're negating everything you do by being sure it won't do any good," I told her. "Now, are you going to put yourself in my hands and obey me implicitly?"

"Yes, I am," she said solemnly.

"Then repeat something after me and mean it," I told her.

"Faith healing?" she gibed, then caught her breath.

"Please forgive me, Auntie Madge," she pleaded. "I will be good! Tell me what you want me to say."

"Say 'I know I'm going to lick this thing. I know it.'" I intoned.

She repeated the words, and her voice was earnest, almost impassioned, and held no hint of jeering.

"That's better," I told her. "Now look at that first speech. Do those words make you think of anything odd or humorous? Anything some one you have known has said in your hearing at some time?"
